Dear Sir

Enclosed is one Remington 700 BDL left hand cal. 270 S&W.
A26648299.

This gun is about eight years old, since the beginning, I have had problems with it, which seem to get worst as time goes on. Each time I have brought it back to a Remington Repair Center and no one can seem to fix it once and for all.

They have adjusted the trigger a number of times, because the bolt would not cock when opened, also on cold days in the field the bolt would not cock, bring it in to a warm building and the problem doesn't happen.
At times if you released the safety the bolt would fall and the gun would go off.

Now I take the gun out for the first time this year to sight it in for my elk hunt and we are getting light hits on the primer.
