Gentlemen:

I am a Remington Gun fan and own four of them. Two Model 370 "Special Field" shot guns, and two Model 700 BDL¹ rifles. One in .30/06 calibre and one in .243 calibre.

I am having trouble with both of the Model 700 rifles in that they quite often discharge when letting off the safety. This is very unsafe when hunting with a group.

Is there something that can be done about this problem? If so, where in this area?

Very truly & concerned yours,

Dixon H. Fotheringham
