

Dear Remington Co.

The gun I am sending back has the following defect. When I was hunting Antelope, as I was bringing the gun down and to get him in the scope the gun went off before I pulled the trigger, I thought that maybe I had pulled the trigger in the excitement. Later when seeing a other Antelope I was standing by the truck door waiting for a buck to come in view, (the truck was on a slight incline the door was open and came shut, striking the end of the barrel (lightly) the gun went off sending the bullet through the door.

I have since (cautiously) shot the the gun several times at a target, and there is definitely something wrong with the firing mechanism

I know you can't compensate for the Antelope I missed but I would appreciate you covering the cost of repairing the door at ($78.63)

Thanks
