

Dear Mr. Stehl:

Please return my rifle immediately. The answer I received is the one I expected, typical big business whitewash.

I've handled guns for more years than I care to remember, all different types and calibers. I self analyzed the incident many times before sending the rifle to you. I know absolutely that I did not touch that trigger or have my finger on the trigger when releasing the safety.

My absolute concern of safety at all times when handling firearms can be testified to by many people and hunting companions. There is no doubt I
