This note is about a model 700 Remington B.D.L. 243 cal. rifle S.N. 344854. I spoke with you a few days ago and here are the details you requested. Last year in december this gun fired when the bolt was being locked down by my wife. I just could not believe that it malfunctioned. This year on november the 11th I was loading this rifle and when I locked the bolt down it discharged doing damage to our truck and scaring us very much. This rifle has only done this two times. I believe the gun could kill someone!! I took the gun apart to see if I could find a broken or badly worn part. I did not see any thing out of the ordinary, but I am not a gunsmith. Your help in eliminating the malfunction & danger will be most appreciated.

Thank you.
