

with another lubricant.
The gun was not used again until the 1991 season.

After zeroing in on a deer and squeezing down on the trigger, it gave the delayed action firing as before.

I ejected that shell and when I slid the bolt in place with a second shell, ~~and~~ the gun fired without my touching the trigger. I ejected that cartridge and when I slid the bolt forward and it fired immediately again. I gave up hunting for that trip,
