MODEL 700 ADL GRADE SLING STRAPS

We arranged for John Finnegan to contact the various people involved and it does not seem there is too much of a problem as result of carrying over the sling strap accessories from the M/721 Series. In the first place we are told that there are very few orders for the particular combination which will give trouble, and we understand that these are usually referred to Arms Service. Mr. F. Plunkett says he will usually make an effort to sell the 7/8" sling strap with the quick release swivels.

The problem is simply one of dimensions; namely, that the old style front regular swivel screws are too long for the new M/700 stocks. However, I was shown how they could still actually be used by cutting them off. So let the orders come on, and between Arms Service and us I am sure they can be handled in some manner.
