Wy Ap

S. M. Alvis
R. P. Kelly

mille

Ilion, New York April 7, 1965

F. E. MORGAN Bridgeport

We have been attempting to find a means to fasten the magazine of the M/700 in the receiver in order to eliminate stock breakage caused by improper assembly. Several methods have been investigated, none of which are completely adequate.

An attempt is now being made to affect a permanent fastening by welding. If this method is deemed adequate, it will be adopted.

M. H. Walker Research Division

MHW: al