I thought that it should be known to you and the people of Remington Arms that I being a working man appreciate the fine firearms you people turn out and at a fair price.

My Remington is a model 700 BDL .264 magnum with a weaver variable 4X - 12X scope. One thing I like most about it is the fine workmanship and materials you put into your guns, which contribute to its excellent accuracy. My Remington coming straight out of the box looked, felt, and performed like a custom model costing far more. I'm sure many hunters are just as happy as I am. All put my Remington against any Winchester! We put a few down already. Winchester is going too far with their Centennial and Commemorative models. In one catalogue it showed Teddy Roosevelt charging up San Juan Hill, this is fine for history but is it gonna put meat on the table!

History might be selling Winchesters but a fine reputation is selling Remingtons. Keep up the good work!

Yours truly,

Richard J. Woods
