TO OUR DIRECT INTERNATIONAL CUSTOMERS:

Remington Arms Company has uncovered a problem that may develop with a limited number of Model XP-100 Center-fire pistols and is requesting that you hold further shipment of these guns that remain in your inventory until appropriate action has been taken. This letter provides you with the necessary details regarding our request.

The Model XP-100 pistols involved include pistols shipped between January 1, 1987 - October 4, 1988. A complete serial number listing of the involved pistols shipped to your business is enclosed.

Please note that Model XP-100 pistols with serial numbers other than those shown on the attached list are not involved, and you need not take any action on those guns. Also, no other Remington gun models are involved.

During routine servicing of this model, Remington discovered that an incomplete factory operation, involving the front trigger housing screw, may have introduced the possibility of an unsafe trigger assembly condition in a limited number of guns. Although unlikely, with normal usage of the pistol, the front trigger housing screw may position itself in such a manner as to promote firing upon release of the safety or upon bolt closing.

Since the safety and quality of our firearms is our utmost concern, Remington will, at no charge, correct the affected trigger assembly part in all pistols which could possibly be involved. To accomplish this, a trigger assembly correction program has been instituted.

I requested to sign this release as I possess, in my opinion, all the tools, including a comparator, and skills required to perform this product recall trigger assembly correction myself.

Despite Remington's repeated attempts to convince me otherwise, I refuse to send that company my firearm for the above reasons.

Should any accident or injury ever result to anyone using the aforementioned pistol, I, therefore, assume full responsibility and/or liability for such an occurance.
