```
Model 1100
              Brief History – 1962 to present
                     First fully gas operated, auto-loading shotgun
                     Best selling auto-loader
              Cycle of Operation
              Disassembly
              Explanation of Individual Parts
                     Barrels
                     Receiver Assembly
                            Magazine assembly
                            Action Tube
                     Trigger assembly
                            Common fire control
                     Bolt assembly
                     Stock and fore-end
                            Options
              Re-assembly
              Different Models Available
                     Trap
                     Sporting Clays
                     Slug guns
                     Youth
              Possible Malfanctions- what to do
              Care and Cleaning
              Repairs
                     Restricted parts
Day Seven
      Model 11-87 (same agenda as M1100)
Day Eight
      Break Action Shotguns
             Peerless
              M396
              M300.
              M332
              M3200
Day Nine
       Review
Day Ten
       Review
```