I was given a Remington Model 600 350 magnum a number of years ago by a close friend of the family. I am unable to locate any ammo for this gun. It's one of the most beautiful rifles I have ever seen. I have approximately 40 rounds left. I have noticed that the cases split after they are fired so I am unable to reload them. Where can I find ammo for this gun? In addition I have heard there was a recall on this rifle something about a bolt lock safety mechanism?

Any help in the above matters would be greatly appreciated.
Sincerely,

Capt. Art Georgiou
