Dear Mr. Williams,
Thank you for your inquiry. We would need to know the serial number of your uncle's firearm to determine if it has been recalled.

We do have a Safety Modification Program on certain model bolt action rifles. This is a voluntary program, it is not a recall. This is designed to remind people of the existence of the bolt-lock feature and to offer customers the opportunity to modernize their products. If you have a bolt lock safety, we strongly recommend that you take advantage of this offer.

You can read more information regarding our firearms and our Safety Modification program through the front page of our website or the link below:

http://www.remington.com/safety_modification_program/remington_safety.htm

The safe use and performance of your firearm depends on correct assembly and routine maintenance, as well as adherence to the "10 Commandments of Firearm Safety." <http://www.remington.com/support/10comm.htm> It is critical that you familiarize yourself with the information in both the owners manual and safety booklet. Whether you are a veteran shooter with a collection of Remington firearms, or a first time shooter, take the time to review this important literature and be certain that you are practicing firearm safety!

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us at

I am asking this question for my uncle who does not have internet access.

He is an owner of a Remington 700 .243cal rifle..I don't know which type (BDL, ADL, etc.). He heard there was a recall of certain model 700 rifles. Is this true? Could you provide me a list of the 700 .243 rifles that are on recall due to a malfunction, I believe with the firing mechanism?

Thank you for your prompt assistance and any information that you can provide will be useful.

Sincerely,

Phillip Williams
