Dear Mr. Sellers,

Thank you for your inquiry. We do not perform general repairs on the Model 721. If you are in need of general repairs, we recommend that you contact an obsolete parts dealer or a local gunsmith.

If this is for the Safety Modification Program, then you can send the firearms to us via UPS. You can find all of the details for shipping this firearm through the front page of our website or through the link below:

For your convenience we have included a link below to a list of establishments that may offer parts or services for your older Remington firearm:

Additional information regarding parts and service can be found in our Support Section under "Obtaining Services".
