Dear Mr. Bullis,

Thank you for contacting Remington Country. Most models manufactured after the mid-80's will not have a bolt lock design. These modern rifles will allow you to open the bolt at any time, whether on safe or fire position.

I HAVE A REMINGTON MODEL 700 SENDERO SF IN 25-06 WITH A NIKON SCOPE WHICH BY THE WAY IS THE BEST SHOOTING, BEST FEELING GUN I HAVE EVER OWNED AND WILL HOLD A GROUP OF 1/2" AT 300 YDS. BUT ANYWAY I HAVE JUST A GENERAL QUESTION. WHEN I HAVE THE SAFETY ON JUST THE BUTTON SAFETY .NOT THE KEYED SAFETY ..THE BOLT WILL STILL OPEN. SHOULD THIS HAPPEN WITH THE SAFETY ON ?
THANKS, TOMMY BULLIS
