Thank you for your inquiry. On the Model 700 BDL Deluxe, the trigger guard is powdered metal. Since 1982, our safety is the non-bolt lock style. That means you can open your bolt when the gun is in the safe position.

Dear Remington is the trigger guard on this rifle made of aluminum or is it now a polymer plastic? Have the safetys on these rifles been changed in any way since 1975? These are the last two questions before i make my choice. Thanks again from D-Otsig saskatoon saskatchewan.
