Thank you for contacting Remington Country. Remington is extending through December 31, 2003, its safety modification program to remove the bolt-lock mechanism from certain Remington bolt-action centerfire firearms made prior to March, 1982. Details on this is available at:

http://www.remington.com/safety_modification_program/remington_safety.htm

The bolt does not have to be replaced for this modification. A part within the trigger assembly is modified.

Safety boltlock modification program status.
Year of listed guns manufactured.
Does replacement safety boltlock require the new bolt with the locking key?

Thank you,
Jim Halcomb
