

CONFIDENTIAL

Make it a practice to clean your bore every time you're going to shoot. Be sure to clean your entire gun before and after long-term storage and no less than once a year. It's so important to clean your gun whenever it's been exposed to adverse conditions such as rain, dirt, mud, snow, sweat or saltwater.

For safe and dependable operation of your firearm, all parts of your gun must be properly cleaned and lubricated. Periodically inspect the internal workings of your firearm to be sure they're clean and free of rust, greasy dirt and debris.

Use recommended lubricants on your gun and do not over-lubricate. Excessive use of a non-recommended lubricant could adversely affect the function and safe operation of your firearm. Remember, you are responsible for the proper care and maintenance of your firearm. Failure to properly maintain your firearm can not only damage or ruin your firearm, it can expose you and others to unnecessary risks of personal injury or death.

Remington® has a wide range of firearm care products and resources for best results when cleaning your gun. Everything from solvents and lubricants to rods and patches. They're all available from your Remington dealer.

10th COMMANDMENT

Learn the Mechanics and Handling Characteristics of Your Firearm.
Not all guns are alike. They have different mechanical characteristics that dictate how you should carry and handle them. Anyone who plans to use a firearm should first become totally familiar with the type of firearm it is and the safe handling procedures for loading, unloading, carrying, shooting and storing it.

Before you even unbox your new Remington firearm, read this instruction book from cover to cover and familiarize yourself with the different components of the gun. Then read, understand and follow the Ten Commandments of Firearm Safety in this book.

WARNING! Dismantling firearms in poorly ventilated areas, including firearms or handling ammunition may result in exposure to lead, a substance known to cause birth defects, reproductive failure, cancer and other serious physical injury. Have adequate ventilation. Wash hands thoroughly after exposure.

SHOOT SENSIBLE!

There's one other rule that must be followed when handling firearms. In fact, respect for this rule is necessary in order to effectively practice the ten Commandments of Firearm Safety. The rule is: SHOOT SENSIBLE! Guns and alcohol or drugs make a deadly combination. Never consume any liquid or food that might mildly impair your judgment or physical coordination when you're using a firearm. A staggering percentage of the shooting accidents that occur every year involve alcohol or drugs. Be smart. Always shoot sober and stay alive.

WARNING! Failure to follow any of these safety rules may result in serious injury or death to the shooter or bystander and damage to property. Do not use a firearm until you fully understand and practice the 10 Commandments of Firearm Safety.
