Are there extra magazine/clips available for the Model 710 rifle?

Yes. You may purchase spare magazines for the Model 710 from your local firearms retailer. If they do not have them in stock, they can order these for you.

Where can I purchase a scope base for the Model 710?

Scope bases for the Model 710 are available through your local firearms dealer. Leupold and Burris manufacture aftermarket, two piece bases for this model.

What is the difference between the Model 700 and the Model 710?

Thank you for your interest in the new Model 710. The bolt on the Model 710 is not like a conventional bolt action rifle. For the last 100 plus years, bolt action rifles have all basically been made the same way; the locking lugs on the bolt lock up into the receiver, while the barrel is screwed on. The Model 710 is a completely new way of thinking. The bolt locks directly into the barrel, and the barrel is hydraulically pressed into the receiver. Also, there are three locking lugs instead of two. This gives the rifle exceptional strength and accuracy.

Since the bolt locks into the barrel, the receiver now simply guides the bolt. The receiver of the Model 710 has a self lubricating synthetic insert to guide the bolt into the barrel. With this new insert, and the three locking lugs, there is a completely different feel. When pushing the bolt forward, there is a different feeling than on the Model 700 or Model Seven. This is because of the contact of the metal bolt and the synthetic insert and is normal. The "feel" is different, but the quality and performance of Remington is still there.
