The exterior of the box was in "fair to good" condition by my assessment. I have used a black permanent marker to draw a border around all dents & creases which I would consider substantial enough to be noteworthy. Since you are going to get the box back & you can see my markings for yourself, I will not try to give a lengthy written description here.

I would suspect the contents are not damaged based on the boxes exterior damage generated on this leg of the shipment provided the interior is properly designed to protect the contents.

The gun is on it's way back to you via UPS ground.

R/ Nick

Nick, per our phone conversation yesterday, upon receipt of the package please inspect the exterior of the box without opening and make detailed notes about the condition. Also mark any damage or blemishes that appear on the box so I can tell on which leg of the trip the damage occurred. Please return the package to R & D to my attention via UPS ground.

Thanks
Phillip
