Dear Mr. Kay:

Thank you for your inquiry. Remington considers all Remington firearms, including the Model 700 safe to us so long as you adhere to the "10 Commandments of Firearms Safety", keep it properly maintained and do not make inappropriate alterations. If you have any concerns regarding the safe functioning of your firearm we would be more than happy to help you get the firearm a safety check-up by a Remington Authorized Repair Center or our factory gunsmiths.

You can locate your nearest repair center by visiting the Repair Information Center in our Support Section and selecting your model and state:

I own two Remington model 700 rifles and had planned on buying two more for my kids to hunt with, but with the recent news on the safety mechanism it will be hard for me to run out and buy this model. What should I do? Has any other Remington rifles had this problem? I would like to stick with the Remington products.
Thank You, John Kay
