

I have a 1974 or 1975 Remington 700 BDL chambered for 270 Win. A shooting and...

Discussion Thread

Response (Laura)

10/4/2002 3:27:09 PM

Dear Gary,

Thank you for your inquiry and your support. We would need to know the serial number of your firearm to determine if there has been any recall on it. We do have a Safety Modification Program on certain model bolt action rifles. This is a voluntary program, it is not a recall. This is designed to remind people of the existence of the bolt lock feature and to offer customers the opportunity to modernize their products. If you have a bolt lock safety, we strongly recommend that you take advantage of this offer.

You can read more information regarding our firearms and our Safety Modification program through the front page of our website or the link below:

http://www.remington.com/safety\_modification\_program/remington\_safety.htm

The safe use and performance of your firearm depends on correct assembly and routine maintenance, as well as adherence to the "10 Commandments of Firearm Safety." <http://www.remington.com/support/10comm.htm> It is critical that you familiarize yourself with the information in both the owners manual and safety booklet. Whether you are a veteran shooter with a collection of Remington firearms, or a first time shooter, take the time to review this important literature and be certain that you are practicing firearm safety!

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us at 1-800-243-9700 or 1-877-387-6691.

Customer (Gary Creel)

9/25/2002 9:30:19 PM

I have a 1974 or 1975 Remington 700 BDL chambered for 270 Win. A shooting and hunting friend told me he thought Remington might have recall for my rifle, possibly related to the safety lock. Can you confirm this and provide me the recall number or specific instructions I need to follow if there is a specific issue I need to be informed about?

BTW, my 700 has take over 30 deer and always with a single shot. It has been one of the best investments in a firearm I ever made. I plan to hand it down to my son or grandson. Thanks, Gary