Do any of the Remington rifles have a bolt lock safety that prevents the bolt...

Discussion Thread

Response (KATHY) 11/26/2002 10:28:51 AM Dear Mr. Haberstich, Thank you for visiting Remington Country and your continued use of our Remington products. We do not manufacture our bolt action rifles with the bolt lock style safety any longer. This style safety kept the bolt from opening while the safety was on. We will not alter any firearm to this style safety.

Customer (Jim Haberstich) 11/26/2002 12:07:27 AM Do any of the Remington rifles have a bolt lock safety that prevents the bolt from opening while going thru heavy brush 1 bought a 300 Ultra mag rifle and was disappointed to learn that the bolt does not lock closed when the rifle is on safety.Using the bolt lock key is not an option for me, because there is not always enough time to unlock the bolt and maintain target aquisition. Respectfully, James Haberstich

Subject to Protective Order - Williams v. Remington