Thank you for contacting Remington Country. Your Model 700 was produced in 1980. Your firearm has not been involved in a recall. Your rifle was originally installed with a bolt-lock, which means you have to put the safety switch on fire before you can open the bolt. We are offering a conversion at a special price if you would like your firearm converted, so that you can open the bolt at anytime with the safety on safe.

We recommend sending the rifle to the following Pramer Repair Center to inspect the firearm for firing when the safety is taken off. Discontinue use until we can inspect the firearm.

I have had this gun for several years and on many instances when I take the safety off the gun will fire. I have had it cleaned and serviced at two gun shop. They said they can not find anything wrong. It does not do it all the time but it has done it on three different hunting trip. All ammo has been Rem. 100 Gr. core-loc ptd soft pt. any questions you can contact me at
