Dear Mr. Smith,

Thank you for contacting Remington Country. Your Model 600 with serial number 75178 was produced around 1966. Serial number 87400 was produced around 1967. Both should be inspected for a trigger recall. We suggest discontinuing use of these firearms and taking or sending your firearm to a Remington Authorized Repair Center or our factory for evaluation.

You can locate your nearest repair center by visiting the Repair Information Center in our Support Section and selecting your model and state:

The rifles I asked about are both remington model 600's
the .308 caliber is serial # 75178
the .222 caliber is serial #87400
and again the questions are 1) are these rifles subject to a recall and 2) are they safe to shoot. they have been stored and not fired for years. I think the .222 has never been fired. Thank you David Smith

Dear Mr. Smith,

We can check to see if the rifles have been recalled if you will forward the serial numbers on the left side of the action. Certain Model 600 rifles were recalled. You can view more information on the recall and a safety modification program offered at:

My friend has 2 remington 600 rifles (222/308cal) we went to shoot the .308 at the range and the range officer came over to us and tols us that there had been a recall on that rifle. Is that so? and is it safe to shoot remington model 600's? How does he handle the recall if there is one? David Smith
P.S. My signin name is spelled wrong (Gavid vs. David) and I don't know how to change it.
