Thank you for your recent inquiry. From the serial number that you provided, your firearm was manufactured in 1970. So, yes it would fall under the bolt lock safety modification. I have provided a link below for you that will go in to more detail regarding the program.

I hope this information is helpful. Thank you for your continued support of Remington products and thank you for visiting Remington Country.

Does this rifle fall under the recall on the trigger and safety, if so what would I be required to do? Thanks in advance for your help.
