

Remington Model 700 243 serial # 6232554

Discussion Thread

Response (Denis)

10/3/2003 8:41:41 AM

Dear Boyd, Thank you for contacting Remington. With the serial number you provided, your Model 700 was produced in or about 1969 and has not been involved in a recall. Model 700's that were produced before 1982 have a bolt lock safety system. We are offering a voluntary program to convert these older model firearms to a non-bolt lock safety. Please use the link below for details on this modification.
http://www.remington.com/Safety_Modification_Program/remington_safety.htm
If you have additional questions or need assistance, please call our parts and repair department at 1-800-243-9700.

Customer (Boyd Walker)

9/30/2003 8:04:30 AM

Was my rifle subject to the recall a short time back.

Thank You