Thank you for your inquiry. The program was already extended to go through the end of this year. There are no plans to extend it further. If your firearm is not at an Remington repair center by the 31st you will still be able to have the work done, however, the cost will be much greater.

Will Remington be extending their program to get the 700s bolt lock changed. I just found out about it and wanted to know if I only have until the 31st to have this work done as your website states. Thank you for your help
