I have a model 700 ADL that I purchased new in 1974. I also purchased a 700 BDL in the late 1990's. My old 700 must have the safety in the fire position to pull the bolt back while the newer model will allow you to pull the bolt back to eject the bullets in the safety position. Is it possible to modify the older 700 to allow the bolt to come back in the safety position? Otherwise, the gun has performed flawlessly for the past 30 years.

Thank you,
