I am a proud owner of a Model 700 BDL left-handed .270 rifle that I bought in 1980 (I no longer have the receipt). I believe my rifle falls under the recall as it cannot be loaded or unloaded in the safe position. The problem is, I'm military stationed in Germany and will be here permanently (will retire soon). What are my options? There is no way I can bring the weapon back to the U.S. as I had a nightmare of time taking it out of the country in 1999. Is there anyway I can have it serviced here in Germany and still fall under the program? Any help would be appreciated.
Sincerely,

Doug Kaufman
