I am aware that there is a fco on this firearm regarding the relationship of the bolt and the safety and the danger of missfire when unloading etc.
I was told that you would correct this issue with some different parts. I have contacted several dealers/repair shops for remington and they all would do it but will charge to do same. 50-100 dollars. this seems wrong to me and would like to have you send me the parts so I can get it done.
Rifle is like new in every respect. Bill
