

remington 700 .243

Discussion Thread

Response (Dell)
Dear Doug,

11/30/2004 12:58:56 PM

Thank you for your inquiry. We can only recommend sending your rifle into Product Services with a detailed letter. The following link will take you to a form that needs to be printed out. Please follow the shipping instructions & send to the address on the form.

<http://www.remington.com/support/repairsvc/factrep.htm>

Customer (doug truslow)

11/20/2004 10:29:34 AM

i've had this rifle for about 25 years. although i seldom shoot it, it's been very accurate, and well cared for. i decided to take it hunting this past week, and as i was unloading it [you have to put the saftey in the fire position to unload it], it went off by my left ear [which is still causing me a problem]. i knew i didn't have my finger on the trigger, but????????? i then replicated the process without a shell in the gun, and it did it again. i then took off the stock, and thoroughly cleaned the trigger and bolt mechanism with a degreaser and solvent. the rifle now seems to operate properly, but i don't feel especially. what's the deal? also, there appear to be better designs now, with a three position saftey in which guns can be unloaded without putting them in the fire position. finally, am i going to get my hearing back? it's only in the left ear, and i've got another good ear, but it is disconcerting. doug truslow 803-256-6276. po box 1465 columbia, sc. 29202. thanks for a response.