Thank you for your patience. The Washington, NC center is the only Remington Authorized Repair Center currently in NC. We apologize for the inconvenience this may cause.

Your web site shows only one authorized repair center in Washington, North Carolina. Is that the only one? I live in Raleigh and there are alot of gun shops that sell Remington. I just learned of the bolt lock mechanism problem while searching info about my gun. I am concerned about the problem, but really don't want to ship my gun. I would like to have it worked on locally. Thanks in advance for your help on this matter.
