Thank you for visiting Remington Country. According to the information that you provided, your Remington Model 700 was produced in or around 1966. We do not have production totals for specific calibers. The Model 700 was introduced in 1962 and is still in production today. This model is widely recognized as the "most accurate out of the box production rifle" on the market today. We would suggest that you review the information found on our homepage in the Safety Center entitled "Bolt Action Safety Message: Safety Modification Program for certain pre-1982 rifles".

I recently purchased another Remington rifle at a gun show (wife thinks I have too many Remingtons, but I don't think it is possible to have too many). I rarely ever purchase used rifles, but this rifle was in such great condition, I couldn't pass it up. It is a 700 ADL chambered in .264 Win. Mag. The serial number is 228359. All I know is that it is probably pre 1969, because of the bolt shroud, the stock and the anodized trigger guard. Could you possibly tell me the year of manufacture of this particular rifle? Any information and reply would be greatly appreciated. Thank you and keep up the good work there at Remington.
