- o NBAR may be closer than the first quarter of 1995. This may have an impact on other projects currently on the schedule in terms of meeting manpower requirements. Bill Coleman is currently directing efforts on this project.
- o J. M. Bunting stated that from Marketing's point of view, the last three or four items on the 1993 list (exclusive of niche items) could be sacrificed in favor of advancing a program like NBAR. Munson pointed out that this still would not be enough to relieve the work load when other items are looked at and possibly something else must be sacrificed.
