talking about and shaving her each one. Her comment was what do you expect with deteriorating quality with everything American. I think that kind of talk is crap and simply do not like it. It is partially true but we all can change if we want to.

None of this is Mr. Japs' fault. He more than likely was following Remington policy. My letter is your fault and you are the one who can make things happen.

I've rambled on enough. Thanks for taking the time to read my letters.

Sincerely yours,
